

Discussion Participation Guidelines

The purpose of these discussions is to broaden your horizons and perhaps help you reflect on what you are learning. In general, discussions cannot be made up or completed earlier-you will not receive a grade for posts before or after the week dates unless you have explicit permission. If you know that you will not be able to participate in a discussion during a specific week, I would recommend sending me an email.

Discussion is graded for participation and not content. All I want you to do is read the article/watch the video/ reflect on the question and write at least 100 words about what you think and/or how it applies to you.

After you have created your post, please reply to two of your classmates with your thoughts regarding their Microsoft Word posting using no less than 50 words each time.
